President Hadley's Sermon.
President Hadley's opening sermon to Yale freshmen always commands general attention because of the apt and striking way in which he puts good, old-fashioned truths. In his sermon this year, Dr. Hadley pointed out the evil which comes from "taking one's ease and going with the crowd," both in college and after life. Dr. Hadley warned the young men that such drifting "axed upon them."

The Difference.
It seems that Roosevelt has adopted the official title of Hunter-Naturalist instead of faunal-naturalist. The difference is that one kills animals and the other studies them alive.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Garner Williams, Student at Storrs, Dies on Thursday—Game With Howard Hills for Saturday—Rapid Work on New Sewer Trench.

Mrs. Ann Foley of Oneco was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bitgood on Thursday.

Charles E. Franklin and Hiram Franklin were at Brookton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Call attended the Brookton fair on Thursday, making the trip in their automobile.

Frank Kach is able to be out after being confined to his home for two weeks with an attack of rheumatism.

E. W. Hayward of Middletown, formerly of Danielson, has been a recent visitor here.

Charles Bertorilli made a business trip to Boston on Thursday.

Guests from the Hoosier State. James Woodward and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Woodward of Indianapolis, Ind., are again the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodward, after a visit with relatives in Canterbury.

Theodore Thompson of Providence was the guest of friends in Danielson on Thursday.

Fake Magazine Agent.
Mrs. F. M. Read makes complaint that a solicitor for magazine subscriptions has visited subscribers during the last two days, representing that she has given up the business. By means of this untruthful method several Danielson ladies gave the man their subscriptions and paid for them.

Howard Hills to Play Wauregans.
While the baseball fans down around Putnam are yelling their heads off with excitement over the post-season series for the world's championship on Saturday of this week, the rock-ribbed Howard Hill team from across the Rhode Island border will be down on the Wauregan campus trying to take the measure of the pet performers of that lively village.

This carries the promise of a mighty good ball game for the fall season fans, and they are preparing to be present in numbers befitting the presence of the mighty Wauregans.

LA SALETTE FATHERS.
Changes, Transfers and Promotions in the American Province.

Rev. Celestin Crozet, who recently returned to Danielson and resumed charge of St. James' parish, attended the general chapter at the mother house of the order of La Salette, in Suva, Italy.

At the meeting of the order, which is composed of missionary fathers, the following changes were made in the American province, and the promotions will be particularly interesting to many in Danielson who know the priests affected by the transfers.

Rev. J. S. Souquet, formerly pastor in Danielson and for many years provincial of the congregation in America, has been elected assistant to the provincial superior. Rev. John General of the order, in Hartford is appointed provincial in his stead. Rev. J. P. Guinet, formerly pastor of St. James' church in Danielson, has been appointed treasurer of the Hartford residence made vacant by the transfer of Rev. Father Souet to the Canadian province.

Rev. Father Philoe of Hartford succeeds Father Guinet as superior in the pastorate of the Catholic.

His holiness, Pope Pius X., has approved and sanctioned the rules and constitution of the Order of La Salette, and in the examination of this constitution the Sacred Congregation found not the slightest rule to criticize. La Salette fathers have been in charge of St. James' parish for the past fifteen years, and during the pastorate of the different priests of the order the church, convent and parochial residence have been built and a new cemetery purchased.

AT WORK ON SEWER TRENCH—Good Day's Work on Thursday.

The Petroski company, holders of the contract to construct the sewer for the borough, had their men at work on the Whalen farm, on lower Dyer street, Thursday morning, and firing shovels have already cut a trench six feet deep and one hundred yards in length across the fields from the terminal at the point where the sewer beds are to be located toward the highway by Saturday night. The character of the soil about where the sewer beds are to be located has proved to be as ideal for the purpose they intended for as was indicated by the surface observations, and any amount of sewage that is likely to come down through the pipes will be quickly absorbed. The site of the beds is on the southwest corner of the farm, only a few rods distant from the Quinebaug river, and at a sufficient distance from any habitation to insure that no complaint will arise as to their being a nuisance.

Death of Gardner Williams.
Gardner Williams, who was brought by automobile from Storrs Agricultural college, Wednesday, to his home in Brooklyn, Ill. with cerebral spinal meningitis, died Thursday. His case was regarded as hopeless from the time of the diagnosis of his trouble and practically no promise was made of his recovery.

POMFRET ELEVEN.
To Play Some Strong Teams This Season—Has Already Won and Lost a Game.

The football schedule arranged for Pomfret school's team this year is a good one, and will bring some fast teams to the school. All of the games are to be played during the present month. Cambridge Latin comes to Pomfret on Saturday of this week, and next Saturday, Brookfield will come on for a game. On Saturday, Oct. 16, the Brown freshmen will be at Pomfret, and on October 20 Worcester High will visit. Pomfret is scheduled to play St. Mary's on Oct. 22, Yantic on Oct. 27, and Westminster on Oct. 30.

These are all home games for Pomfret, and are to be played on the school grounds. Pomfret has already played two games at home, losing to Rutland Manual Training school by a score of 12 to 0, on Oct. 2, and winning on Oct. 6 from Halkis school of New London by a score of 27 to 0. The teams included in this present schedule are about the same of last year. Pomfret has an ordinary strong team and should have a successful season. A Wallace Chumney is captain. Reginald L. Whitman, manager and Stanley Cox assistant manager.

SUPERIOR COURT.
Decision Reserved in Case of Graves vs. Mason—Phillips-Baker Case on Trial.

In the superior court for Windham county, Judge W. L. Bennett presiding, arguments were made in the case of Mary A. Graves vs. Israel B. Mason, when court opened, Thursday morning. The taking of evidence in the case was completed Wednesday. Judge Bennett reserved his decision.

The case of Fred M. Cole vs. Vean and Josephine Barker, assigned to be heard next, was adjourned until Tuesday because of the plaintiff's attorney, Eric H. Johnson, inability to be present Thursday, he having been summoned to appear as a witness in a criminal case being tried in the superior court at Norwich.

South Woodstock Case.
With this case displaced, that of Esther A. Phillips vs. Thomas A. Barker et al. was put on trial. Both are from South Woodstock.

The plaintiff claims an injunction and $500 damages in a disagreement over a water supply. The parties are neighbors in Woodstock, occupying property that at one time was all in
